THIS WOMAN SOLVES SERVANT PROBLEM

Miss Meta Anderson, who finds a contributing solution for the servant problem in the training of subnormal girls. She conducts demonstration classes for New York university's summer session. Why develop higher intelligence for housework if mental defectives make good domestic help? Miss Anderson is a specialist in the training of defectives. She obtained her teacher's certificate from the Jamaica, L. I. normal school and then entered the N. Y. C. schools as a grade teacher. Accident or fate—she knows—let her into the field of teaching defective children. After she had done this in New York for a few years, she was called to Newark, N. J., where they have a system of four special schools run by the city with Dr. H. H. Goddard of Vineland, N. J., in charge. These schools are all equipped with phonographs, manual training and academic classes. Educationally, the children are rarely capable of advancing much beyond the fourth grade. Miss Anderson says, but are carried as far as they can go. "You see," she remarked picturesquely, "we develop them mentally and add a trade." For the past four years she has been in charge of the demonstration school for teachers of the New York university from which she also has a degree. This school is at 219 Sullivan street, near MacDougal alley, New York.

dent Wilson in Mexico but that he would vote for Mr. Hughes and continue to cast his vote with the Republican party, until his own party gave him the protection for his property in Mexico that it should. Doctor Horton said he voted with a Democratic party since the time of Tilden. He is much impressed at the policy of President Wilson in regard to Mexico and this is what caused him to declare himself for Hughes.

Democracy Wins

Doctor Horton declared that President Wilson in denying recognition of Huerta, and recognizing Carranza at the time the United States invaded Vera Cruz dated the turning point in his faith with the Washington administration. He said that Carranza was the only man who would guarantee protection to Americans and their interests in Mexico, and up to that time they had not been protected. "Since then," he said, "I have been a Democrat. I have been a Democrat because I have seen the difference between the policy of the Washington government, headed by President Wilson, and the policy of the Carranza government. It is always to further aggravate the situation," said Doctor Horton. "I have watched Mexico for the past ten years. LITERACY TEST LOSES BY 37,556

Official Count From 65 Counties Shows Measure Snowed Under.

RUSSELL NOMINATED

W. H. Murray Will Contest Nomination of Judge McKewen for Congress.

Special to The World.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 7.—The official vote on 65 counties received by the state election board today shows a vote of 168,559 against the literacy test to 17,003 for, making a majority of 151,556 against the measure in the 65 counties. There are 12 counties yet to hear from. If the same ratio is carried out in the remaining 12 counties that obtained in the other 65, the amendment will have lost by about 45,000 votes. This is 20,000 more than was first predicted.

The nomination of Campbell Russell for the long term corporation commissioner, while conceded, is a matter of majority. The 65 counties show that he is leading by about five thousand votes, and the Warner wizard says he will have it by seven thousand.

Murray Will Protest.

The first official protest to reach the election board came today when W. H. Murray served notice that he would contest the nomination of Judge Tom McKewen of Ada, who the returns show, has defeated Murray for the congressional nomination in the Fourth district. Murray says the friends of McKewen claimed his nomination by a majority of 292 votes. A change of 150 votes would throw the nomination to Murray, he says. "I am reasonably sure of effecting this change by a recount in either Pontotoc or Seminole counties," says Murray.

The recount demanded is of the state election board. The board will inform Mr. Murray that according to an opinion from the attorney-general the demand for a recount must be made of the county election boards in the counties where the recount is sought, that the state election boards cannot go behind the returns certified to it from the county boards. This is the procedure that has been taken in the past.

It is also understood there is a contest in Pottawatomie county over the race for legislature. The opponent of Paul Nesbit, the latter who figured in the legislative riot last winter, is claiming the nomination.

FARM LOAN BOARD ENTERS INTO WORK

secretary of the board. Mr. Flanagan has been secretary of the joint commission which investigated rural credits in Europe and drafted the present law.

Discusses Itinerary.

The board also discussed the itinerary for its trip to the Pacific coast and went over the applications and recommendations of forty cities for federal land banks. No route for the trip was determined on, but it is probable the board will go west through northern states and return to Washington through the south.

Secretary McAdoo predicts that it cannot be in operation for at least six months and probably longer cannot be made before next spring.

In operation, the system to some extent will do for the farmer what the federal reserve system does for the business man. The farmer will be given opportunity to secure money on the most favorable terms, and his land, just as the merchant and manufacturer has been enabled through the federal reserve system to have his paper, based on commercial transactions, and a ready market.

The new scheme has many points of resemblance to the federal reserve system, but in many essential features it is entirely different. In no way will the banks created under it do commercial banking, and while it is possible that in years to come they may have funds to loan that will amount to several hundred million dollars, it is not believed probable that the system ever will have the resources of the reserve system.

Two Districts. The act provided for a division of the continental United States into 12 land bank districts, with a federal land bank in each. The work of designating districts and selecting the centers at which the loan banks are to be located will be the first important duty of the farm loan board, as is expected to result in last August, when the act was passed.

The announcement of the lines of the 12 federal reserve districts and the location of federal reserve banks. The only directory provision in the farm loan act says that land banks shall be located with particular reference to the farm loan needs of the country, so the board will have wide discretion in the selection of centers. Cities, particularly in the northwest and southwest, already have been filed in the treasury, but the board will not make its selections until it has traveled over the country and held hearings in many states.

Each federal land bank must have a minimum subscribed capital of $100,000 before it can start business. If the act is passed, the board will have thirty days after books are opened for subscriptions to the stock of any of these banks individuals or corporations have not subscribed that amount the secretary of the treasury is directed to subscribe for the United States in the needed sums. Stock in the banks may pay dividends when earned, but the United States as a stockholder cannot participate with others.

Won't Accept Direct Loans. The banks will not, except in special cases, loan direct to farmers. Instead, through the agency of national farm loan associations, which may be organized by any number in a land bank district, they will make loans to prospective owners of farm land who desire to secure loans on farm property. Applications for charters for these loan banks and may be refused by it. No association will be chartered unless it is shown that signing members desire loans totaling at least $20,000.

In applying for membership in an association a farmer must take 5 per cent of the face value of the desired loan in stock of the association. Applications for loans are to be placed upon by a loan committee of the farm loan association. Loans will be made only on first mortgages or farm property and the value of the land will be the main consideration. The land will be subject to inspection by an appraiser of the farm loan board. Loans will be made only for purchase of land, for its improvement, or for purchase of live stock, equipment, fertilizers, or to provide buildings on a farm or to liquidate indebtedness existing when the first association is formed in the county where land is located. No loan will be made of more than $10,000 or less than $100. Interest will not be charged greater than 6 per cent. The loan itself will be reduced through an amortization plan providing for reduction by annual or semi-annual payments on the principal. No mortgage shall run for more than forty years nor less than five, and there are the necessary provisions in the law for satisfaction of overdue interest or amortization payments.

Must Come Through Banks.

The money to be loaned will come through the federal land banks, which are to be governed by the national farm loan associations, and the farmer. The capital stock of the land banks will not give them much loaning power, so congress increased that power greatly by authorizing the banks to issue farm loan bonds and sell them in the open market. The set provides that when a federal land bank has loaned $50,000 to farmers it may issue a corresponding amount of farm loan bonds, and that the total that may be issued by any one bank on a minimum capital of $750,000, is $1,000,000. The bonds will be sold at a discount of 10 per cent, and the whole system $100,000,000 to loan on first mortgages.

Farm loan bonds are to be made attractive by payment of not more than 5 per cent interest and a provision that they shall be exempt from federal, state and municipal taxation. They are made legal investments for trust funds. They are not to be obligations of the United States, but will have behind them the first mortgages on farm lands. Three mortgages also are exempt from taxation.

In case local conditions do not favor organization of farm loan associations land banks may be authorized by the farm loan board to make loans to farmers through agents or mortgage companies, and the law permits establishments of joint stock land banks to lend directly to borrowers on first mortgages of farm lands. These banks will be under supervision of the farm loan board.
